Table of contents

Preface................................................................................................................................................ 3

P. Berger
Teachers and Computers the ‘Computer Concepts’ of German mathematics and Computer
Science teachers ........................................................................................................................................ 7

B. Ezawa
Counting, Calculating, and Speaking by mentally retarded pupils.................................................. 21

A. Hollenstein
Essay-Writing in Mathematics. secondary School, 7TH TO 12TH grade.......................................... 34

H. Jungwirth, H. Steinbring, J. Voigt, B. Wollring
Interpretative Classroom Research in teacher education............................................................... 49

F. Käpnick
On the Subjective Conception of Numbers in Elementary School children.................................... 57

P. H. Maier
Spatial Geometry and Spatial Ability How to make solid Geometry solid? .................................... 69

R. J. Nocker
Effects of Computer Algebra on Classroom methodology and pupil activity ............................... 82

K. Reiss
Individual mental Representations of Geometric properties .......................................................... 96

G. Ossimitz
The development of systems thinking skills using system dynamics modelling tools ................. 110

G. Törner
Views of German mathematics teachers on mathematics............................................................. 121

B. Wollring
Examples of spatial Geometric Eigenproductions In primary children’s drawings
- Reflections on the didactics of mathematics for primary Schools ........................................... 135